

WORK-RELIEF

ALTHOUGH the work-relief bill has been passed about a month, the four billion dollars authorized by it has not been touched yet except for carrying on the CCC and F. E. R. A. How ever, every effort is being made to get the program in full swing by fall.

Of course it is understood that the principal objective of the expenditure of this enormous sum of money is to put some three and a half million persons back to work. It is hoped that the re-employment of these heretofore unemployed people will so increase the purchasing power of the unemployed that a general business activity will be stimulated and revived.

I wish that all Americans, and particularly every Mississippian, could have heard the President's Sunday night fireside chat in which he discussed this Public Works program. The thing that appealed to me most about his talk was, first, that no politics would be tolerated, and, second, that it was hoped that this enormous sum of money could be expended with a minimum of graft.

TENANT BILL

The Bankhead Bill making provision for tenant to buy homesteads at low interest rates and on long terms passed in the Senate, but was immediately recommitted. Nevertheless, it is expected to become a law at this session of Congress.

APPEALS ON ALLOTMENTS

Any farmer may appeal from the decision of the County Committee on cases arising out of the Cotton Contract, the Bankhead Cotton Control Act, or landlord and tenant questions. The appeal must be filed with the County Committee, which first considers the appeal and, if it cannot grant it, then forwards it to the State Adjustment Board. A date is set for a hearing, and both the producer and a representative of the County Committee are given an opportunity to appear in person. The decision of the Adjustment Board is final in cases where the matter has been decided in accordance with authority given by regulations, administrative rulings, or instructions approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, but it is not final in cases where the contract has been accepted by the Secretary. In the latter event the appeal goes to the Division of Cotton in Washington for final determination. Mr. C. A. Cobb, Chief of the division having jurisdiction over these matters, has given assurances that these appeal cases will be given very careful attention.

To Be Represented

Red Cross workers in Mississippi and Louisiana will meet in Pass Christian, Mississippi, during the week of May 13-18, according to an announcement.

"The institute is planned for both professional and volunteer chapter workers," said Richard F. Allen, manager of the Eastern Area of the Red Cross. There will be a class in each of these subjects every morning of the week, in charge of Miss Helen Moses, national representative of civilian relief, and of Everett Dix, assistant manager of the Eastern Area. On each afternoon there will be a general study of a specific service or activity of the Red Cross, also in charge of experts from headquarters. 'NOTHING IS FREE IN GOVERNMENT,' DECLARES GOV. CONNER

Says Candidates Talking of 'Giving' Should First Tell Who Is Going To Pay. There Is Nothing Free—People Must Pay Government Back

The third anniversary of the retail sales tax in Mississippi Wednesday brought a statement from Governor Sennett Conner in which he said the tax had produced $9,140,219.26 to date, saving the state's credit, he said.

The governor's statement: "The sales tax is three years old today. A public official never derives any pleasure or popularity from imposing a tax on the people. He would much prefer to take off all the taxes.

"Candidates who tell the people about the many free things they are going to give them should be required to tell how they are going to impose the taxes to pay for these gifts. There is nothing free in government. The people always must pay and they are lucky if they don't have to pay more than once for what they get."

"When we came into office in 1932 we found that others had forgotten to provide the means for paying for the things they had been boasting about giving the people. As a result, state obligations amounting to $7,500,000 were in default, $5,250,000 of notes and other millions of state bonds were coming due. The state had no credit. There was $1326.27 in the general fund. Pay day had come.

"The situation could only be saved by imposing a sales tax. Since May, 1932, the sales tax has produced $9,140,219.26, producing $1,383,319.36 in 1932, $2,673,955 in 1933 and $3,732,054.05 in 1934 and $1,350,918.26 to date in 1935. Returns have exceeded expectations. This is due to the patriotism of our citizens and the splendid, sensible, businesslike administration of the law. We have restored the credit of the state and at the same time reduced the state property taxes 65 per cent and exempted the limited homestead from all state taxes, paid off millions of dollars of bonds and operated the state within her income. If we had renewed maturing state bonds, as other administrations have done, we could have eliminated the state property tax altogether."

S. J. A. May Queen Festival Scores Social And Financial Success

The sum of $685.00 is the amount netted as a result of the May Queen festival presented Sunday night at St. Joseph Academy for benefit of the Gym debt fund, and the Sisters of St. Joseph wish to gratefully acknowledge with thanks their appreciation to those who made this possible. The affair was well attended and received by admiring and appreciative public. The May Queen court was one of beauty and general charm and elicited unanimous admiration and applause, and said by knowing ones to be one of the prettiest affairs of the kind yet staged here. Carron's Band furnished the music for the ball that followed the coronation ceremony.

TO BUILD HOSPITAL ADDITION

Architect E. F. Spori Completes Plans and Specifications

Complete sets of blue prints and specifications were on exhibition in Bay St. Louis Monday by Mrs. A. F. Fournier, president King's Daughters for the new addition and renovation of the present Emergency Hospital, Carroll avenue.

Plans and specifications are complete and ready for bidders and builders. E. F. Spori, of New Orleans, is the architect, who gave his time and professional services gratis to the hospital board of management.

Plans call for enlarging the operating room and the present hallway through the building will lead through the building back to the new and larger kitchen. There will be a sun porch for convalescents and others. The main addition will consist of two major living and sleeping apartments, separated by a connecting bath, fully equipped. Complete, the place will be known in professional term as a 7-bed hospital.

Mrs. Fournier stated it was the board of directors' intention to build as early as possible and that no unnecessary time would be lost now that the blue prints and specifications were ready and especially since additional room was needed.

Of Unusual Interest and Entertainment—Young Artist Will Be Assisted

Peo Harding, the dance artist, will be presented under auspices of St. Stanislaus Parents' Club at the College gym, Sunday, May 26, in the Peo Harding Dance Concert, an event of interest and an occasion of marvelous artistry.

The party or parties overlocked a five-dollar bill secreted in a separate compartment. The theft was discovered the following morning when a number of partly burned matches were found strewn along a path leading to the back of the house, where the screen of a porch was found cut. A screen over a window leading to the bedroom where the theft was committed was also cut. It was duly reported to the authorities. Mr. Damborino is an attaché of The Sea Coast Echo.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER TELLS ABOUT 'BLACK WIDOW SPIDER'

Description and Peculiarities Of the Bug Attracting Wide-Spread Attention

The new topic of conversation now is the "Black Widow Spider." People are becoming concerned but not "alarmed" about this little animal that carries the small bag of concentrated poison. Old mother nature again follows her inexorable and relentless custom of tagging these animals with a badge of danger. In this instance, it is a profound jet black and crimson red and by this she says to man "Beware of Deep Rich Colors." It is an error to call this miniature tiger an insect, for it belongs to another genera along with the cattle ticks, once so common on our cattle.

This particular spider is native to our community and doubtless has been living right here in Bay St. Louis countless ages before man placed his foot on our beautiful shores. If we observe her locomotion we at once conclude, she never broke any speed limits or won a prize on a race course. Her movements are awkward, clumsy, lumbering and ungainly; just all dressed up and no where to go. Although she has eight legs, they are weak, frail, lacking physical strength to carry her ponderous body, therefore she cannot travel far or fast. Nature realized this and gave her the peculiar marking. This is the silent voice to all of her enemies to beware.

Here we see nature's compensation. Yes she is a widow garbed in a veil of ebony, but shedding no Nubian tears. Carrying in her sack a deadly poison and practicing perfect deception by assassinating and devouring the mate that has fallen to her romantic charm; however, it can be said, in her defense, this custom prevails in other lower form of life. This member of the Araneidae family has no antenna or feelers, simple eyes, does not see very far, breathes through lung sacks, or tracheae, spinnerets on lower end of abdomen, from which she spins fine silken threads and arranges these threads into a rough, ragged, irregular poorly constructed web, which does not resemble the fine architecture of other spider webs.

The spider may be found in apparent privacy and seclusion, in dark, damp recesses under boards or trash. When disturbed she will make an attempt to escape; however, if crowded or annoyed she will attack.

After careful search, two specimens have been obtained and are on display. Any one desiring to learn to identify these spiders may examine these specimens.

How may we avoid being poisoned by these spiders? Extreme care when engaged at tasks in places naturally favorable for breeding and growing these spiders.

MOTHER'S DAY

If I could find a rose so pure
As my own mother's love was sure,
I'd wear that rose of spotless snow,
That those who saw it there might know
How much my mother meant to me,
How much she means eternally.

My mother's life was like a flower
That broke to blossom every hour.
I knew its fragrance as a child
When all the earth with beauty smiled
And when the world was clad in gray,
It seemed to sweeten day by day.

My mother's name was little known
Beyond the circles of her own.
She never dreamed of pomp and place,
She chose to run a modest race,
Contented quite if she could cast
A breath of fragrance where she passed.

Old-Fashioned gardens held her heart,
Where humble blossoms bloomed apart,
Where many a sweet familiar thing,
Like those dear songs she used to sing,
Turned every common-place to good,
Like her own winsome womanhood.

If I could find a rose as white
As my own mother's ways were right,
Despite my heart's eternal ache,
I'd wear that tribute for her sake.
I think that it would bring her joy
To see that flower on her boy.

I see her still through blinding tears
Beyond the border land of years.
She is not old and bent and gray,
But fair and young and lithe and gay.
When twilight ends my afternoon,
I hope to meet my mother soon.

BLACK SPIDER SHOWN

Three Specimen of Venomous Insect Found in Bay St. Louis Garden

The famous or rather infamous black spider, known as the "black widow" is in this section as well as in New Orleans and other sections where it played havoc, causing death and biting others who have had close calls.

Mrs. J. Townsend Wolfe brought three of the insects to the office of The Sea Coast Echo Wednesday, two were alive, the other dead. The specimens were typical. About the size of a thumbnail, the back of an apparent hard-looking black surface, while the stomach of each contained and distinctly visible a red spot.

Mrs. Wolfe says the three were hidden under pieces of broken concrete in the garden surrounding her home in Main street and recognizing the insect from description and pictures carried in the daily press she immediately set about to capture the trio—in order they might not disseminate and bite someone. They are extremely venomous and their bite is generally fatal. The specimens were taken to the office of Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, for closer examination and in order he may see the "black widow," of local capture, closer and possibly he might issue a special bulletin to the public, one of warning as well as of educational value in order the public may be warned and subsequently careful. It is said to keep the children from gardens and damp places and not to go barefooted.

What Has Become Of:

The contract let for paving the La-Miss. Shortcut?
The final survey, if any, of the Mississippi shortcut route?
And the Bay St. Louis gas franchise?

Slidell, La., May 8.—Machinery and equipment of the R. B. Tyler Company of Louisville, Ky., to be used in hard-surfacing the short cut from the Rigolets free bridge to the Mississippi line, was being unloaded here today, under the supervision of Gaines P. Wilson, general superintendent of the company.

Mr. Wilson said a work order had been received from the Louisiana Highway Commission and actual work on the job would begin within 10 days. T. A. Brown will be the resident superintendent of construction for the Tyler Company, it was stated.

The work to be done consists of laying a six-inch pavement of "mixed-in-place sand-asphalt" on the eight and one-third miles of embankment. Superintendent Wilson asserted that the pavement would be 22 feet in width and be laid on one side of the roadway, except on the bridges. Approximately 50 men will be employed in two shifts of 25 each. The labor will be provided by the re-employment service of the parish, it was said.

The hard-surfacing of this stretch of highway, which is a Federal-aid project, will require about five months, Mr. Wilson reported. The bid of the Tyler Company was $97,600, it was stated.

EDITORS VISIT BAY CITY

Some Five Hundred Guests Welcomed to Bay St. Louis While Visiting Gulf Coast

A group approximately numbering some five hundred ladies and gentlemen, members of the National Editorial Association, detrained at Bay St. Louis Thursday morning of this week shortly after 10 o'clock, en route to Gulfport, their objective point on the Mississippi Gulf Coast itinerary.

Both bands of the city, Municipal and St. Stanislaus College bands, members in their bright and new uniforms, met the guests of the city. Each band was in a truck and followed the line of visit thru both Bay City and Waveland, and discourses selections of stirring music wherever stops were made and en route.

The group was headed by Clayton Rand, member Board of Directors of National Editorial Association, and publisher Gulfport Guide, who had the executive end of the trip from New Orleans to the Coast in charge. The local reception committee was headed by Mayor G. Y. Blaize, H. Grady Perkins, W. L. Bourgeois, representing the city officially; Chas. G. Moreau, representing the Chamber of Commerce and local press; A. A. Seafide and Joseph Scharff, president and vice president respectively, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club. At their first sight of seeing the blue waters of the Gulf the visitors, most of the number from inland towns, expressed joy and admiration and agreed this was a great and beautiful country. One distinguished publisher saying that it was surprising so few people comparatively resided in a paradise like this.

Planning to visit the home of the late "Pearl Rivers" author and poetess, and publisher as well in her own name of the Daily N. O. Picayune during her life, and later stopping at the home of Marshall Ballard, editor, and a stop at the office of The Sea Coast Echo, the party left in many automobiles for Gulfport. These autos were supplied from Gulfport and vicinity, 150 in number, and the balance by the good people of Bay St. Louis through the solicitation of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the visit here was arranged for in co-operation with the mayor and city commissioners.

The party was due in Gulfport for lunch, to be served at the public park, on the beach, and where the balance of the day was to be spent in relaxation and recreation. The public pier and bathing pavilion was also open to the guests. The plan will carry the visitors back to New Orleans leaving Gulfport by train at about 5 o'clock.

IS IMPROVEMENT A MYTH.

WHAT is the condition of the country today? Is it true that matters are improving? Or, has government so far interfered with everything that the recovery signs that indicate improvement are myths?

The automobile industry gives some idea of the truth. Output in the first three months of this year was the largest for any period since 1929 and has been exceeded only two or three times prior to that year.

Certainly, somebody must have money in the United States, or else such an assured income that the buying of an automobile is not impossible. Plainly, in spite of the errors, mistakes and bugling that are pointed out there is positive indication of progress. Alert business men in Hancock county might as well take notice of the drift and make their plans accordingly.

Of course, the attitude of big business, industrialists and financiers is hard to understand. As the New York Times says, "The recent attitude in some parts of the financial community seemed to be that recovery was unreasonable under present political conditions and that, therefore, there could have been no recovery."

With the expeditions under the huge work-relief program about the begin it seems to us that conditions generally will be better this fall. These dollars will be spent, regardless of what any of us may think about the wisdom of the act itself, and it is just as well for us to realize that they will undoubtedly accelerate the present progress. Whether it will be permanent or temporary, we risk no prophecy but you can look for an upgrade movement during the next twelve months.

EASY PREY

FREE school books, old-age pensions and share-your-wealth are used to a farewell in political campaigns from the humblest to the exalted positions sought by the respective candidates. No county candidate has as yet announced in favor of the immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus!

We notice from the press over the State candidates galore are speechifying to the effect that they are saying nothing new. The same vote-getting harangue seems to obtain. They speak, yet say nothing.

With one breath candidates are promising many things and with their next breath promise a reduction in taxes.

Dear reader and voter, how can the State buy school books, pay old-age pensions, issue bonds for many proposed new-fangled ideas and reduce the tax-payers' burdens? Common sense tells, it can't be done.

It is possible the candidate of this particular kind is catering only to the man or woman who pays no taxes? Without the taxpayer's votes one may not get very far.

It is surprising the piffle one hears from the stump, one reads from literature burdening the mails, addressed to the dear voter. Are we not supposed to be living in an intelligent era?

INTERESTING

PUBLISHERS of newspapers will be interested in hearing about the "fat pickings" in the magazine field.

We see where the president of a corporation which publishes three magazines gets a remuneration of $134,000 yearly, the vice-president $60,000, the secretary $36,000 and four editors an aggregate of $111,600.

Why continue publishing a weekly newspaper in Bay St. Louis?

BANDED BOOKS

AN interesting exhibition of banned books has been made in New York. It reveals that a Chinese governor objected to "Alice in Wonderland" because it made animals equal to humans, that Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" was held up in Great Britain through fear that it might offend Japan and that Imperial Russia outlawed Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tales lest children get fantastic ideas.

Like Mary full of grace.

Mother, in thee our hopes we find,
Beloved forevermore.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS TO COAST

MEMBERS of the National Editorial Association, of which organization The Sea Coast Echo is a member, are meeting in New Orleans this week, celebrating, while in annual session, their golden jubilee, and, strange as it may seem, it was at New Orleans the organization had its birth.

The business program is interspersed with various forms of entertainment and side trips. One of the trips includes a visit to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, a special train out from New Orleans bearing possibly five hundred members, will journey hither on Thursday of this week. The editors-publishers will stop off at Bay St. Louis, while the train will continue on to Gulfport. Bay St. Louis will be host to the visiting newspaper folk for part of the forenoon. The program calls for a trip over the city by auto, visiting at the home of Mr. Leonard Nicholson, son of the lamented "Pearl Rivers," and probably a visit to the home of Marshall Ballard, editor New Orleans Item-Tribune.

The distinguished guests will be entertained at Gulfport and the Gulf Coast the balance of the day, returning to New Orleans that evening by train. The balance of the week will be spent visiting the Land of Evangeline in Louisiana, with various side trips and special forms of receptions.

Wherever the pencil pushers and moulders of public opinion may visit, including Bay St. Louis and the balance of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, they will find a warm welcome. They will return home with fond and lasting memories of the beauty and glory of the Southland. Their visit to Bay St. Louis is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. The Echo bids them welcome to Bay St. Louis.

The State allotment under the Emergency Relief Administration for May is $700,000, or $200,000 less than April, according to C. B. Braun, State Administrator.

ENTERPRISING L. & N. R. R.

THE Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, still and always, the "Old Reliable," announces it has air-conditioned a number of its trains, from Pullman, dining and club car to the hope that in time all trains will be so conditioned.

This is a forward step noteworthy and should encourage summer travel to many times its ordinary peak. Many people are wont to travel, to get away to cooler climes and to visit other places, but the heat and dust of trains is far conducive from health and comfort and many unconsciously forego their proposed travels.

Travel in the last decade or more has attracted many by reason of improved equipment and the L. & N. has not in the least been backward in the trend of improvement and the willingness to do better things for the public.

One may now travel in more comfort during the hottest and dusty season than remaining at home and at cost of summer rates one can hardly resist.

Air conditioning is fast coming into its own. We find stores, shops, restaurants and various places of business thus treated. The time for every place of business as well as private homes, to be thus equipped, is not far distant. We will find, at proper prices, the importance of refrigeration will be as paramount as heat when we build houses in future and that at no distant date.

Mississippi with 21,290 4-H club boys enrolled in 79 counties has the highest boys' club organization in the United States.

The Mississippi quota of men for the C. C. C. Camps has been increased to 8,530 men, and the enrollment will take place in June.

CONGRATULATING GRADUATES

THE Sea Coast Echo hastens to extend its congratulations to the hundreds of young students who complete their school courses this year.

It is an important event in the life of any person, and the future of any graduate is to be largely determined by what happens in the four or five years immediately following high school. We hope that most of our young graduates will be able to attend college, because the training acquired, and the broadened outlook that follows, is one of the best assets of a young man or woman.

Let us caution the graduates, however, that intelligence in itself, is not the goal of life, but merely a tool, with which to labor towards the end. Acquire intelligence by all means but develop spiritually with it. The nation has need of strong men and women, who have the knowledge to know and the will to do right.

A North-South and East-West Paved Highway in Mississippi is the hope of E. D. Kenna, State Highway Director, when Mississippi receives its allotment of the $800,000,000 work relief money from the federal government.

"MAKING GOOD" FOR THE FUTURE

BAY ST. LOUIS is justly proud of its native sons who have gone out into the world, and, as the saying goes, "made good." It is refreshing and serves as a source of endless satisfaction to note just how many have reached the goal of enviable success. Others not native but who have gone to our local college and schools have well carved a niche for themselves.

Recently a gentleman made a mental list of our former boys now men who have conquered the rough road that leads to high spots of success and it was not only remarkable but of interest to note how long the list. We do not measure success by making money. Of course, that is one of the yardsticks by which we measure a man's efforts, for it proves that he has had the intelligence and interpretative trend, coupled with application and integrity to deal with his fellowmen and both the business and professional world in that honest and open way which only begets true success.

The gentleman's mental list was copied, but for fear it might omit some who rightfully be-

More than one hundred banks have amended their charters under the new banking laws passed by the Legislature of 1934, known as Senate Bill No. 227. There are 211 State Banks in Mississippi under the direction of M. D. Brett, State Comptroller. The amending of these charters has entailed added clerical work to both the State Banking Department, or rather the Department of Bank Supervision, as it is known under the new law, and Secretary of State Walker Wood, and his department.

The Library Commission, under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Robinson, have been cooperating with the C. W. A., in bringing good books and reading matter within the reach of everyone in Mississippi. Books are being taken here and there by mail by car, on horse back and even on foot to many people who are not able to get them otherwise. For a large portion of the time there have been as many as 500 persons engaged in the projects under this Commission.

The State Service Department, directed by G. S. Vincent, Commissioner, and assisted by W. D. Barnes and R. H. DeKay, Assistant Commissioners, have in addition to the many veteran claims handled during 1934, have interviewed more than 6,000 disabled veterans, by personal contact and visits to commission headquarters. They have written more than 12,000 letters, during the past twelve months.

Annual examinations for medical licenses will be held for the State on June 25 and 26, in the Hall of Representatives in the New Capitol.

Luke Meyers and M. L. Armistead have been named as Bank Examiners for the Department of Bank Supervision. Other examiners are C. T. Johnson, H. O. Walker, E. M. Summer and R. G. Duke.

A total of sixty-one charters of incorporation were filed for record in the Secretary of State's department, during the month of April, according to Secretary of State Walker Wood. These charters consisted of fifty-four domestic charters, with a total authorized capital of $1,546,000.00, and seven foreign or out-of-state charters with a total of $105,000.00. There were also thirty-five notary public commissions issued from the department during April, Mr. Wood stated.

TO ENLARGE C. C. C.

The C. C. C. has been ordered to a peak of 600,000 men by August 1. Age limits will be 18 to 28 and length of service has been increased from one year to eighteen months.

TO WRITE CHECKS

The treasury will need 1,000 extra men to write checks to those benefitting under the $4,000,000, 000 work program.

TO SHIRLEY TEMPLE ON HER SIXTH BIRTHDAY

Dear little Shirley, just turned six,
Bright eyes and smiling face;
How joyful in your playful tricks,
A fairy full of grace.

Sweetest of children, friend and all,
The world about your feet;
So wise and true, but yet so small,
Gifted with charms complete.

May you long on the screen beguile,
To me always dear;
I see your merry, twinkling smile,
In dreams your voice I hear.

long there, we refrain from reproducing it just at this time. But for the future it might be printed, not only for tribute of praise but to serve as a living example in order others might be inspired and thus follow the footsteps of their predecessors.

The boy and young man of today has a broad field. He has more and better opportunities of education and self-improvement and it does seem that his future, in appreciative measure, rests largely of his own will and doing.

BANISH THE PICTURES

(Jackson News)

THE order of Chief of Police John Simmons prohibiting conditions from mailing or posting their pictures in fences, telegraph and telephone poles in the city of Jackson has attracted state-wide attention. Similar orders have been, or will be, issued in many other communities. It is strictly a police regulation backed by ample authority. In other words, such pictures are classified as public nuisances.

A loud shout of approval came from Honorable Kenneth G. Price, Magnolia lawyer, and president of the Pike county Memorial Highway Association, who writes as follows:

I have been fooling around with politics in Mississippi for a lot these twenty-five years, and if an elector ever voted for a candidate because he saw his picture stuck up on a telephone pole, or a pine tree, for that matter, I have never been furnished with the proof. I doubt that personal pulchritude is a political asset. If ugliness is, certainly no photographer can do justice to the physiognomies of several of the candidates in this campaign.

We would be glad if the natural scenic beauty of Highway 51 thru this county could be preserved and not marred and littered up with political posters.

Mr. Price is emphatically right. There are nearly 8,000 candidates in the field in Mississippi this year, and it is doubtful if any one of them could qualify as an entrant in a male beauty show. That being true, why hang a picture if it isn't beautiful?

Also, as Mr. Price tersely states it, personal pulchritude is not a political asset. Run over the pages of American history, and you will see that nearly all the outstanding Presidents of the nation were homelier than a mud fence staked and ridden with rocks.

Jackson's police chief started something really worth while. Here's hoping other sections of the state keep it going.

The Illinois Central has paid the second installment of ad valorem taxes due in Mississippi, totaling $379,000. Back in the days when Charles R. Markham, of beloved memory, headed the system, the Illinois Central often paid its taxes in advance of the time limit. It was only necessary to tell him that the state treasury was hard up for money and Mr. Markham ordered taxes paid in full prior to Christmas. It's different nowadays. The Illinois Central, like nearly everybody else, is hard pressed for cash, despite fact that it is the state's largest taxpayer and 57 of our 82 counties look to it for revenue.—Jackson News.

A LOOSE-THINKING PARSON

An Editorial of note from the Jackson (Miss.) Daily News:

THE loose thinking so freely manifested by members of the clergy when they get beyond the realm of things strictly spiritual is downright disheartening.

For illustration: Down at Houston, Tex., there is a Presbyterian pastor named Dr. William States Jacobs. He used to be pastor of the Presbyterian church at Columbus, this state. Dr. Jacobs has written a letter to Governor James V. Allred, of Texas, suggesting that a "clinic" be made out of the case of Ray Hamilton, notorious bandit, due to die in the electric chair Friday for his numerous crimes—the same Ray Hamilton who created a reign of terror in Mississippi shortly before his capture and return to the death house.

Briefly stated, Dr. Jacobs wants the death sentence commuted to life imprisonment, and he will then personally take charge of a "clinic" to prove that Christianity can save sinners—save unto the uttermost. On this point Dr. Jacobs says:

Whenever the Christian Church admits that a wayward, neglected youth of 22 has to be electrocuted to solve the crime problem, it is an admission that

WASHINGTON NOTES

WOULD BALANCE BUDGET

Senator LaFollette says that if this country imposed taxes similar to those in force in Great Britain they would increase the revenue of the government by $4,130,000,000. This amount would more than balance the federal budget.

ABOUT UNIONS

The fight of the A. F. of L. on company unions is understood when one observes that the recent report of the Twentieth Century Fund shows that membership in the company unions jumped from 404,000 to 1,300,000 between 1919 and 1932, and that the Federation dropped from 3,300,000 to 2,500,000. Besides, few people believe that company unions are adequate agencies to secure genuine collective bargaining.

SAVIN' THE NATION

Like most other organizations of business, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce last week advised the nation how it could be saved. The general idea is to turn the country over to the big business boys.

BANKING BATTLE LINE

The fight on the banking measure is between those who think that private interests should control money and credit, and those who want the government, subject to political influences, to do so. There are objections to either and arguments on both sides.

BANKS GET FUNDS

the office of Savior and Redeemer is a failure and the church may as well pull down its spires and its altars and close up the church.

Passionate language, but it means nothing.

Nobody is inclined to dispute with Dr. Jacobs that Christianity can, and does, save unto the uttermost. It was proven on Golgotha's skull-shaped hill when Christ forgave the thief and promised him a place in Paradise that very day.

Nevertheless, they went ahead and imposed death penalty for the thief, which was eminently proper. That's what they are going to do in the case of Ray Hamilton. He has ample time in which to repent between now and the hour of his execution.

The trouble with Dr. Jacobs is that he is one of those softies who are opposed to infliction of capital punishment under any circumstances, no matter how heinous the crime.

That he bears not a remote resemblance to Christianity.

The lowly Nazarene had held that sort of belief. He could have wrought a miracle and saved the thief from physical death. Dr. Jacobs can argue until he is black in the face against that fact, but he can't remove it. Facts are such stubborn things.

Ray Hamilton will not escape the "hot seat" merely to enable Dr. Jacobs to conduct a clinic in Christianity.

Our Presbyterian brother should go back to his Bible. He will find plenty therein about remission for sins, but not a word justifying sickly sentimentality in dealing therewith. The Bible plainly says that "the wages of sin is death," and that's what's coming to Ray Hamilton.

FOR TREATY NAVY

In the vote for a treaty navy 73 Republicans and 216 Democrats joined to overwhelm the 33 Democrats, 14 Republicans, 6 Progressives and 3 Farmer-Labor members who were against it.

RADIO STATIONS "OFFEND"

Sixteen members of the House have signed a demand that all stations of a national broadcasting company be deprived of their licenses because they transmitted, on March 21, an address, delivered in Spanish in Mexico City, which was "offensive" in that it included a poem regarded by them as reflecting upon Catholics.

CAN REPEL ATTACK

Admiral William H. Stanley, Chief of Naval Operations, told a House Committee that the Navy is incapable of carrying aggressive warfare to another world power, but is able to repel any attack on American shores.

With The Movies And Film Folks

A NOTICEABLE trend is seen to-ward longer feature productions, much to the exasperation of exhibitors. This pronounced trend is seen in such films as "David Copperfield," which runs for two hours and thirteen minutes, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," for two hours and eighteen minutes; "Barrets of Wimpole Street," an hour and fifteen minutes; "Oil for the Lamps of China," and such other features.

Ruth Chatterton's first picture for Columbia will be "Feather in Her Hat," which will go into production early in June.

MGM has purchased film rights to "Maytime" an operetta by Sigmund Romberg and Rida Johnson Young.

Robert Donat will arrive from England about the middle of this month to begin work for Warner Brothers in the title role of "Captain Blood," which is scheduled for immediate production.

"Sally of Show Alley," a novel by Homer King Gordon, has been purchased by Liberty Pictures as one of the twelve feature length films on Liberty's 1935-1936 program.

During its first week in New York, the production "Les Miserables," with Fredric March, Charles Laughton and Sir Cedric Hardwicke in the leading roles, broke eight-year attendance records.

Katherine Hepburn is back in Hollywood to begin work on her next film for RKO-Radio, "Alice Adams," the Booth Tarkington novel.

After an extended vacation in New York, Kitty Carlisle is at work with Gladys Swartout and John Boles in their forthcoming production for

Paramount, "Rose of the Rancho."

Claire Dodd has replaced Dolores del Rio as the feminine lead opposite Warren William in "Not on Your Life," being produced by First National. Miss del Rio's next film will be "Evangeline," an adaptation of Longfellow's narrative poem of Arcadia.

The title of Joan Crawford's next for MGM is unpronounceable—"Claustrophobia," based on a novel by Abbie Carter Goodloe. She has just completed "No More Ladies."

Frances Langford, radio singer, Patsy Kelly, comedienne, and Alice Faye are to furnish the feminine attraction in "Every Night at Eight," Walter Wanger's contemplated musical comedy-drama. Miss Faye will appear opposite George Raft.

Myrna Loy withdrew from the cast of "Masquerade," being produced by MGM, on the ground that the role was not suited to her and Louise Rainer, Viennese actress has replaced her.

Margaret Sullivan and her husband, William Wyler, the director, have returned from a wedding trip to Europe and Miss Sullivan will begin work for Paramount in "So Red the Rose." After that, she will return to Universal for "Time Out of Mind."

Nelson Eddy and Jeannette MacDonald, who appeared together in "Naughty Marietta," will again be seen together in the Metro production of "Americans Can Sing Too."

Charles Laughton has returned from a visit to Europe and after a short stay in New York arrived in Hollywood to begin work on "Mutiny on the Bounty," with Clark Gable and Robert Montgomery.

Keep a Good Laxative always in your home

Among the necessities of home is a good, reliable laxative. Don't be without one! Do your best to prevent constipation. Don't neglect it when you feel any of its disagreeable symptoms coming on. "We have used Theodore's Black-Draught for 21 years and have found it a very useful medicine that every family ought to have in their home," writes Mrs. Perry Hicks, of Belton, Texas. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and other ills where a good laxative or purgative is needed. I have always found Black-Draught gives good results."

"Rumba" Rejoins Raft And Lombard in New Dance Movie Triumph

George Raft and Carole Lombard the sensational dancing stars of "Bolero," repeat that early success on an even more lavish and startling scale in Paramount's "Rumba," at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

An enthralling and dramatic love story set to the rhythmic tom-toms of Cuba's fascinating dance rhythms, the picture combines musical innovations, drama and handsomely mounted photography to furnish spell-binding entertainment.

The story, itself, is concerned with Raft, a Broadway hooper, exiled in Havana by threats of gang vengeance who jumps into the limelight with his revival of Rumba dancing. Assisted by Margo, the lovely Mexican dancer, he becomes the town's chief attraction.

He meets Carole Lombard, a lovely heiress, and falls madly, tempestuously in love with her. Soon, she reciprocates his feelings, but they argue and she flees to New York.

Raft accepts an offer to star in a New York show, although he knows he is daring death, for the opportunity to be near the girl he loves. The film comes to its climax when, as a result of threats, his dancing partner refuses to go on in their dance. Carole Lombard comes to his aid. In a final burst of barbaric music, this pair dances a thrilling Rumba which brings the film to its close.

Few more delightful treatments of dance and drama have been seen on the screen. "Rumba," with its special Ralph Rainger score, elaborate LeRoy Prinz dance routines and its amazing variety of entrancing dance steps is a show well worthy of your patronage.

Marion Gering, director of "Rumba," who deserves special commendation for a beautifully blended bit of drama and entertainment, devoted months in the Latin-American countries to research that would make the picture authentic.

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Sissy
Only one who has been called "sissy" in real earnest can describe the full horror of what is implied.

Our mistake is to say "Oh, it's just a kid's fun, it doesn't mean anything." And it's a particularly sad mistake when spoken by one who is the parent or teacher of a child so tagged by his playmates. Because it means that a real opportunity for service is being overlooked. It's a challenge.

When the kids tag on that label "sissy" don't think it's their mistake. They're seldom wrong. They know all the signs. If you can, consult a good psychologist or psychiatrist. "Sissy" needs the best treatment. If you can't steel yourself to keep hands off, let him fight his own battles. Let him taste defeat. Withhold your too ready sympathy, but show interest in his every effort to make good. Encourage self-confidence, and for each success have a simple word of praise.

Encourage hobbies, is Dr. Ireland's advice to the school. He tells why in his next article.

Shivering with Chills Burning with Fever

Sure Relief for Malaria!

Don't try homemade treatments or newfangled remedies! Take that good old Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Soon you will be yourself again, for Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic not only relieves the symptoms of Malaria, but destroys the infection itself.

The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic kills the Malaria infection in the blood while the iron it contains builds up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and fortify against further attack. The twofold effect is absolutely necessary to the overcoming of Malaria. Besides being a dependable remedy for Malaria, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is also an excellent tonic of general use. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle today at any store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

What The Telephone Business Means To Mississippi

The Southern Bell Company spent almost $21,000,000 during the five years of the depression to operate, maintain and improve Mississippi's telephone service. This was an important contribution to the progress of the State during a time when many large industries were forced to greatly restrict their operations.

During 1934, which was far from a good year the telephone company's operating expenses in Mississippi amounted to nearly $3,000,000 and more than $500,000 was spent for additions to plant.

To build, operate and maintain this extensive plant requires the services of nearly 1,100 skilled workers. Their annual pay roll is more than $1,000,000, most of which is spent in the State for food, clothing, housing, and other needs.

Many of these telephone men and women are home-owners, and all of them are tax-payers. They and their families compose a large group of more than 4,000 people, who are dependent upon the telephone business for their livelihood.

The steady and constant flow of millions of dollars from the telephone industry in the form of wages, taxes, purchases of raw materials and other expenses, is regarded as an important factor in the industrial progress and welfare of the State.

But of even greater importance to the business and social welfare of Mississippi is the telephone company's responsibility for furnishing the adequate, dependable and high type of telephone service to which you are accustomed. Yet the price you pay for this all-important service averages only a few cents a day for all classes of local service. A price so low, in fact, as to earn less than two per cent on the investment in the plant used to furnish service.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

PINEAPPLE keeps step with any meal, it lends itself agreeably to the fruit cocktail it is excellent for a salad and adds flavor to every type of dessert. It is served often with meats of all kinds. Here are some excellent pineapple recipes:

Pineapple-Strawberry Cocktail
Cut large, fresh hulled strawberries in halves, reserving enough whole ones to use as a garnish. Put the cut berries in cocktail glasses and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Add crushed pineapple to fill the glass and on top of each place a whole berry. Chill thoroughly before serving.

Luncheon Salad
Add ¼ cup cold water to two tablespoons gelatin. When it has softened, add ½ cup boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add 1 cup crushed pineapple, 3-4 cup dried celery and ½ cup nut meats broken in pieces. Pour into mold. When ready to use unmold and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Pineapple Nut Souffle
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice

¼ cup cream
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup nut meats, broken

When mixture begins to thicken add stiffly beaten egg whites, cream whipped, and nuts. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Steam large prunes, extract stones and divide in quarters lengthwise. Arrange on slices of pineapple radiating from the center, place mayonnaise or boiled dressing in the center, topped with a halved marachino cherry. Serve on lettuce.

2 tablespoons water
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
Salt
2 eggs
1 tablespoon lemon extract
1 cup cream
1 sponge cake

Fruit Mixture

Custard
Soften gelatin in cold water. Scald milk with sugar and salt. Beat eggs, add a little cold milk, then add hot milk. Stir as it cooks and thickens. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. When cool, add lemon extract and fold in stiffly beaten cream. Select pan same size as sponge cake, then line with wax paper. Cut cake horizontally into 1-4 inch slices. Lay a piece of cake in bottom of pan spread with apricot puree ½ inch thick, another layer of cake, then custard, cake, apricot and cake until all is used. Unmold slice and serve with fresh strawberries and whipped cream.

City Echoes

—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ivy of New Orleans are spending the week visiting Bay St. Louis friends.

—Mr. George E. Pitcher is in New York City this week in the interest of the firm he represents, conferring with directors of that company.

—C. M. Weeks, local selling agent Chevrolet Cars and trucks, has been a visitor to New Orleans almost daily in the interest of his business and Sunday visited Covington parish, La.

—Sheldon Suzanneau, attending Perkinson College, is home for the week-end, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Suzanneau, at the family home in Kellar avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Foreman, residents of Baton Rouge, La., are spending a few days in Bay St. Louis, visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bardon, Mrs. Foreman a sister of Mr. Bardon's.

—Warren Carver, formerly connected with the local clerk of courts office, but now an attaché of the State auditor's office at Jackson, Miss., was down during the past week-end on a visit to his parents and family. Warren expressed a decided liking for his new position and surroundings but his predilection still remains for Bay St. Louis and the Gulf Coast, etc.

—Albert David, recent purchaser of the Mollere Groceries, expresses satisfaction and gratification at the manner in which the public has received the change of ownership by a continuous liberal patronage. Mr. David states that the only change in the management of the business is that of ownership. The same complete and high class quality of merchandise offered the customer will continue, and, as the market permits, prices will be cut accordingly—as low as possible. Mr. David favors selling not only the best goods but the most for the least money, as consistently as possible.

—Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray spent Tuesday in New Orleans visiting his son, Funston, who was the victim of a severe accident, crushing in part a leg while working on the levee front last week, and reports the patient doing as well as could be expected. He is at Hotel Dieu.

—Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Herlihy have moved into their new home, Coleman avenue, a few days ago and are comfortably and charmingly domiciled therein. They received and entertained the members of the Wednesday night Bridge Club at their new domicile this week.

—Post Master George T. Herlihy, accompanied by Preston Vinet, both of Waveland left a few days ago for Flint, Michigan, where Mr. Herlihy plans to purchase an Oldsmobile car for his personal use and will drive it home direct from the factory. Mr. Herlihy purchased a car last year about this time and "drove" the car home from Detroit.

—Ben Hille, who recently completed one of the largest and best completely-equipped service and repair garages on the Coast, received this week a new greasing machine for thorough greasing of trucks and cars. This new mechanism does the work better and in quicker time and gives the customer perfect satisfaction. Mr. Hille is justly proud of his splendid place and invites the public interested to see this new greasing apparatus.

—The Echo has received several inquiries from Bay St. Louis and the county, who are the candidates seeking political preferment. This would be difficult to answer in the face of positive knowledge as to who are candidates. A voter temporarily residing in New Orleans writes to "please publish a full list of candidates in order one may know who they are." It would be taking a chance at accuracy and quite a difficult task to make up such a list. We doubt if anyone could. All we can do is to refer our inquiries to the published list of authorized announcements appearing each and every week in The Echo. The hesitant candidate is not only modest to a fault but he might be uncertain as to his candidacy and its strength.

—The Board of Mayor and City Commissioners has been asked to hard-surface the head of State street for a depth of 25 or 50 feet, where it intersects North Beach Boulevard. It is pointed out that this street carries considerable drainage water to and thru a catch basin at that point and as a result the street (of crushed shells) is torn by the turbulent waters and rendered not only impassable but danger to pedestrians both day and night; that this is an important point in the business section, two of the major business dwellings of the city located on each of the west corners, and taxes paid by them respectively alone would justify the comparatively small cost that would necessarily be expended. Such attention would not only remove an eye-sore condition but would eliminate a constant hazard. The council favors the improvement.

—Many candidates and others from over the county journeyed to Flat Top School house community Wednesday of this week to attend public speaking at 9 o'clock morning. The day was spent in general picnic time and at 2 o'clock afternoon, after the inner man had gotten on the outside of the bountiful supply of eats, Paul B. Johnson, a candidate for governor, spoke in the interest of his candidacy. Quite a number of candidates from Bay St. Louis were present, some speaking from the rostrum. The weather was ideal and the crowds enjoyed the occasion.

—The candidate who is "laying low," playing possum, as it were, thinking he is deceiving his opponent and not wishing to cause any more resistance that he may think it necessary, is deceiving no one. The successful candidate is not only the one best qualified but the one who declares a wide-open campaign, puts on full steam and opens wide the throttle. He works from morning to night from week to week and from month to month until the ultimate end. That is the price of success.

—It has been said repeatedly the county campaign is unusually quiet, more so at this time of the year than any other such campaign. This might be true and we are of the opinion it is. However, one thing is certain candidates are individually working more actively and harder than ever. Each seems to be losing no time nor allowing any stone to remain unturned. If any candidate should be of the impression that the "other fellow is asleep" he is mistaken. No one is taking any chances or hoping for miracles.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burns came out from New Orleans Sunday and spent the day visiting relatives and a number of their many friends, always enjoying a visit to Bay St. Louis and mingling with friends of the former home town, Mrs. Burns before marriage being Mrs. (Mayor) G. G. Gardebled. While here Mrs. Burns made a liberal and voluntary contribution to the candlestick fund of the local Catholic Church in memory of her recently-deceased mother, Mrs. Huber.

—A feature of Mother's Day in Bay St. Louis, Sunday, the 12, will be the annual banquet honoring mothers by the Parents' Association of St. Stanislaus College. Mrs. John W. Bryan is hospitality chairman and Mrs. Kenneth W. Pepperdine, chairman arrangements. The affair to be given has been in preparation for quite a while and every indication points to a larger attendance and increased interest and enthusiasm.

Mrs. Nellie Smithem Dies

Nellie Smithem, wife of George Smithem, daughter of W. M. Favre and wife, passed away at the Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, March 29, 1935, at 8:45 A. M., and was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery, New Orleans, in the midst of sorrowing relatives and friends, and flowers of beauty and abundance marked the last resting place.

She is survived by many close relatives, including, besides her father and mother, W. C. Favre, T. D. Favre, George W. Favre, all brothers; Mary Louise Ladner, Ella Cueva; wife of Geo. C. Cuevas, Mrs. Asen Stine, sisters; two nephews and one niece, and uncle, W. A. Cuevas. She is also survived by two brothers-in-law, Paul Smithem and Charley Frickey and John Bordages's wife, a sister-in-law.

CANDIDATE FOR GOV. IS FOR REPEAL OF AUTO PRIVILEGE TAX

Says Such License Should No Longer Exist—Favors $1.00 For Tag

Hugh White candidate for governor on a platform that will put people to work states that the gasoline tax fund will increase with rapid strides following the repeal of automobile privilege tax license law and charging only $1 for automobile tags.

Mr. White said the $1 automobile license tag plank in his platform was one of the most important planks and that he would urge its adoption immediately upon taking the oath of office.

"The automobile owner now pays a high state and Federal gasoline tax, a sales tax on his car at the time of purchase, an ad valorem tax on it each year he owns it and there is no need in our requiring him to pay this high privilege tax as the state law now demands," the candidate said.

"I know that the number of cars on the road will be greatly increased following the repeal of this obnoxious law that requires the automobile owners to pay a privilege tax before using their automobile for business or pleasure," the candidate added.

Mr. White contends that the additional revenue gained by the state from the increased consumption of gasoline will more than offset that lost by the privilege license repeal.

In addition to the repeal of the automobile privilege license laws, other important measures contained in Mr. White's progressive twenty-point platform promise the aid of the Governor's office for the balancing of agriculture with industry, the electrification of the state at TVA rates, refunding of counties, and other bonded indebtedness at a rate of interest not to exceed 3 per cent., co-operation with the Federal Government in gaining Old Age pensions and free school books if the legislature will provide funds for their purchase without issuing bonds of increasing taxes.

—The past two weeks have been noted in the office of The Echo for the number of new subscriptions from the rural sections of the county, extending as far as the Pigeon county line. The number is quite appreciable and more interesting from the fact all are voluntary. In every case it is stated people wish the paper for political news—both county and state. This is going to be a great political year and the people wish to be posted. Have you renewed your subscription.

—Rural school commencements over the county have served—and continue so doing—to serve as occasions for political gatherings and both voter and candidate find this both a meeting and common ground. We have no such occasions here in the city, strange to say. With the end of school closings the picnic season will set in and all-day gatherings will be frequent and popular. Hancock county has always been noted for its all-day political rallies in form of basket picnics and barbecues.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Osinich left Tuesday morning for their annual summer trip and vacation, going from here to Memphis, Tenn., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Ballard and two children, and later to the home of their other son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson at Sacramento, California, returning home in the fall.

—Mr. and Mrs. Norwood K. Hingle and two children of New Orleans were visitors to Bay St. Louis, Sunday for the day, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott, and family, Union street. The Hingles are frequent visitors and always enjoy their trips to the Coast.

—Miss Cora Griffith spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Griffith. She had with her, as guests, Misses Mildred Barker of Ocean Springs, Louise Wilder, of Hattiesburg and Yvonne Davis of Purvis. These young ladies are all students of Miss. Woman's College at Hattiesburg, Miss.

MRS. M. DAUGIMONT CELEBRATES EIGHTY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Mrs. M. Daugimont, residing at her flower-embowered home in Waveland Terrace, was agreeably surprised last week-end on the occasion of her 84th birthday by the visit from New Orleans of a party of friends, headed by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Forcelle, the party motoring back to the big city.

Mrs. Daugimont is well and widely known in New Orleans, where she resided the greater portion of her life before moving to Bay-Waveland and both she and the late Mr. Daugimont were the first builders and developers of Waveland Terrace. She is well known locally as well and the many friends of both New Orleans and this section of the Gulf Coast mingle their congratulations and best wishes for continued blessedness.

ROTARIANS ENTERTAINED BY BEVY OF YOUNG LADY SINGERS FROM S. J. A.

Program number of Tuesday evening Rotary Club weekly supper and meeting was one of interest and received with unanimous acclaim.

A quartette, composed of Misses Josie Scaffide, Margie Scaffide, Margaret Perre and Mathilde Maurigi, pianist, gave several selections, singing one the order of the well-known radio stars, the Boswell Sisters.

Their selections were strictly up-to-date numbers and they were recipients of applause and personally-acclaimed praises for their splendid harmony.

This is the second time the "Voice of Song" members have been heard in public and we predict for them a possible career of success.

TWINS CELEBRATED THIRD BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

The twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Boh celebrated their third birthday on Tuesday by having their little playmates at a lawn party amongst the trees and shrubbery of "Elfinwood" their home on the beach.

It was a very enjoyable affair for the children, also for the parents present.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

If you're wondering whether "The Green Light" is a "Will O' the Wisp" or a traffic signal, get this madly popular new book from the Bay Public Library and read it before the "Book of the Hour" Club's first meeting this coming Tuesday (May 14th.) at 10:30 (ten-thirty) a. m. in the Library rooms.

At this first meeting Mrs. Carl Marshall will review "The Green Light" by Loyd C. Douglas and Mrs. Underwood Moss will give a five-minute talk on book-lovers of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county will foregather at this and future meetings which are to be monthly with dues of ten cents a month.

Mrs. A. F. Fournier entertained the Library Board at a delightful luncheon in honor of Miss Mary Effie Cameron of Jackson, a supervisor of counties in the library extension system of Mississippi.

Miss Cameron gave a short but interesting talk of the mechanics of library making, and spoke most kindly of progress made by our library.

Right here this department wishes to announce a correction. The term "Bay Public Library" is incorrect and misleading. Actually, this is the "Hancock County Free Library" (if we wanted to be modern and snappy, we might call it the "H. C. F. L.")

Moore's Rosedale Cafe Entered And Robbed Monday Night

Unknown parties broke into the Rosedale Cafe and Service Station at an unknown hour during Monday night and made away with considerable amount of merchandise, consisting principally of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. A number of pies and other pastry was found strewn over the premises. Two slot machines were taken away from the place and found at a distance away to the rear, demolished in order to remove the contents of money.

A. W. Moore, the proprietor nor the authorities found no clue that might lead to the identity of the perpetrators of the robbery. This is one of the serial robberies recently reported about the city. A thorough investigation is in process by local police.

Deed of Trust, in place and stead of said Leo W. Seal.
